FRIDAY, JAN. 31, 1919

Representative Edward L. Donahay of Youngstown was in Canfield last Saturday calling on friends and acquaintances. Mr. Donahay can be depended upon to be on the right side of every matter that comes before the state legislature.

At the annual McKinley day banquet of the Tippecanoe Club in Cleveland Tuesday night J. J. Sullivan introduced Senator Warren G. Harding as the next republican candidate for president. It has been known for some time that the Senator would probably be in the running, and just as like as not if the nomination comes to Ohio he will be the honored son.

THAT HORSESHOE TABLE

We take it for granted that the table of the Peace Commissioners was arranged in the form of a horseshoe as a matter of convenience only.

We presume, nevertheless, that the men who designed it and those who sit around it and those who read about it, however slight may be the hold of superstition in their minds, have thought of it as a symbol of good luck. It might have been constituted as a cross, a star, a circle or a square, more dignified, more classic, more exalted forms, perhaps, but less convenient and not more full of promise for a brighter future for the race.

Looking for good omens, as we do, in these eventful days we even accept this horseshoe table as a symbol of those mighty hopes which are stirring in the hearts of men. We delight to linger about it, in our thoughts, to compare it with that one around which, at the Congress of Vienna, such machinations were worked out, such bargains made, such insincerities justified. We are pleased to people the wide spaces of that noble chamber with the spectral forms of those great figures of the past who would, if they could, and who do, perhaps, come back from other spheres to watch the struggles of their great successors to realize the ideals for which they gave their time, their strength, their wisdom, and not infrequently their lives. Lincoln is there, and Washington and Lafayette, Milton and Dante, Sir Thomas Moore and Plato, the Hebrew prophets, the apostles, the majestic form of the Prince of Peace, and a thousand others—heroes, martyrs, saints of days gone by.

We dwell upon the mighty racial movements which have culminated there, the migrations of nations, their wars, alliances, achievements in the science and arts, ideals and aspirations. We look upon this horseshoe table as a stupendous magnet which has attracted to itself and focused in itself the tendencies of centuries of thoughts and dreams and deeds. And we think of this table not only as the goal of the past, but the point of departure from which the human race sets out upon another adventurous journey to another goal.

The progress of humanity is a journey by stages. There are platforms in those precipitous stair steps by which it climbs to its zenith of development; places where it stops to breathe and think before its starts again to climb those dizzy heights. And this is one! It ends one epoch and begins another.

Whoever can gaze upon that table and that solemn group of men around it unimpassioned and unmoved could gaze, we think, upon the starry firmament without a thrill of wonder—Cincinnati Enquirer.

REACHING OUT
Has human nature changed or not?
What is the soul of man?
Whence is the origin of thought?
That drew a perfect plan?
What is nature here below?
What is life and love?
What is spirit? does it flow
From the courts above?
What is good and what is evil?
What is justice and the truth?
What is sin and death and devil?
What is righteousness forsooth?
Why is law and order holding
The nature in its chains of space?
Why is time and change unfolding
Things that are in one embrace?
Why is man above the creature?
Why 'twixt right and wrong is he?
Why is he the crowning feature
In the world of do and be?
Do not these point to perfection?
Do not all things lead to more?
Christ the Life and Resurrection
Did ascend to realms beyond.
Do you live the life immortal?
Do you cling to good and truth?
Do you shun the life of sin?
That deluge mankind forsooth?
—S. J. Bush, Greenford, Ohio.

We can forgive, and still be suspicious.

Many a train of thought carries no freight.

Many a worthless man has a good disposition.

Ridicule seldom kills unless the death is deserved.

All typewriters are not types of feminine beauty.

That man is generous to a fault who never corrects it.

No woman who carries a watch is sure that it is correct.

It isn't every client who is able to keep his own counsel.

Laziness isn't exactly a crime, but it is the next thing to it.

Abuse is doubly painful when it is used as a conveyance.

Lots of women haters are afraid to mention it to their wives.

Nearly all beautiful things are expensive—including women.

A double wedding might properly be called a four-hand tie.

Songs without words are preferable to songs without sense.

Any coward can get married, but it takes a hero to stay married.

A woman's vanity is never due to the compliments of other women.

The Universal Alternating Milk r

The development of the milking of cows by mechanical means has led to a large number of machines for that purpose. Nearly all of these will draw milk. The owner of a dairy is confronted with the question of reducing his labor expense and insuring himself of the necessary facilities for milking at all times. The answer to his dilemma is found in the use of a milking machine.

Which machine to select, out of the large number offered, is a matter of serious consideration. Will it benefit or injure the delicate milk producing organs of his fine cattle?

Milking is the one thing that must always be done on time. It cannot be omitted nor can it be delayed. A milker that soon gets out of order is worse than none.

A milking machine must be simple and easily understood. The point is to be sure that the machine selected has actually made good for users generally.

We invite your attention to the way in which the Universal Milking Machine complies with all of these requirements.

The thousands of successful users who employ the Universal Milking Machine every day in the year, twice a day, are the best evidences of its reliability.

A demonstration will be held on the G. S. Beard farm near New Buffalo, Wednesday, Feb. 26, from 3 to 4 o'clock.

THE LITCHFIELD SPREADER

The Bull Dog Beater Wheel is one of the first and about the only great invention ever made on this part of a manure spreader. It is built with high carbon steel U bars, carrying two lengths of diamond-shaped teeth which are double-headed and riveted in the bars by special machinery. We use steel beater heads, so that this part of the machine is practically unbreakable. The "Big Combination" of the Bull Dog Wheel and the No-Choice Box simply eliminates the competition of all other spreaders for light draft on the horses, lack of breakage and strain on machine and lack of worry and annoyance on the part of the owner. This combination handles easily the heavy, soggy, bad material which with other spreaders must be left for a more favorable time, or which can't be handled at all. This is no experiment. Our catalog describes fully.

Self-Oiling Bearings. Our main 4 journal bearings are built like the bearings under a railroad car. Oil packed waste in chambers on the under side of bearings is constantly in contact with the axle, guaranteeing perfect lubrication at all times. All of the bearings are provided with special oiling devices, hard rollers being used wherever practical.

We furnish Broadcasters which spread several inches wider than the outside edge of each rear wheel. It does a fine, even job and is so constructed that it handles the material equally well in light manure as in heavy manure and with a slow walking team the same as a fast walking team. This patented device gives unconditional satisfaction.

The Litchfield Spreader is a tried out and tested machine without a single experiment in its construction anywhere and still it embodies the very latest and most up-to-date principles of spreader building. In this respect it is unique and stands alone in the field. Call and let us show you this machine and get our price before buying.

We issue a written GUARANTEE BOND on our SPECIAL FORM, covering any Litchfield Standard Spreader. This iron-clad guarantee protects the purchaser against flaws and defects in both workmanship and material, for a term of FIVE YEARS. Our SPECIAL FEATURES REMOVE THE STRAIN from our machines, thus increasing the life and making this guarantee possible. Quality in workmanship and material ALONE will not do this.
